AREA OF EXPERTISE

Mickey Layden is President and majority owner of LCK, LLC, a certified women-owned business. The organization was founded in 1994 and has steadily grown under her leadership. LCK is a regional firm offering project management solutions for institutions, corporations and private entities in the development of real estate. The company's wealth of experience across multiple market segments brings value added services to every project. Mickey's extensive background in commercial construction, facilities management and real estate development serves as the foundation for the professional design and construction staff that she has assembled to create a comprehensive service offering for LCK's clients.

A holder of the PMP (Project Management Professional) designation, Mickey integrates internationally recognized process management standards throughout LCK's project delivery system, demonstrating best in class practices at every service point. Mickey's primary focus within the organization is business development, consulting, advisory services, and strategic planning.
