AREA OF EXPERTISE

Chris Farr, a graduate of the University of South Carolina Honors College, received a BS in Mechanical Engineering. He began his career in project management through intern work during college and in 2007 began a full-time position as assistant project manager. A quick study in process analytics, he has demonstrated excellence in managing design and construction teams to deliver quality projects within budget and time constraints. Chris brings seven years of proven successes in management of K-12 projects including both renovations and ground up construction. He has met the challenges of compressed deadlines as well as those associated with phasing of construction activities during school operations.

At LCK, Chris serves as project manager responsible for a variety of project types. He works with clients in pre-construction and through final planning, team selection, design coordination and construction management.

Prior to joining LCK, Chris served as a Project Manager with Cumming | Southern Management Group.
